Student contest set for creative writing

Welcome to "A Celebration of the Arts."

Each year students of Appomattox County schools have the opportunity to enter many contests. With the cooperation of American Federal Savings and Loan in Appomattox, the Art Department of the GFWC Appomattox Woman's Club will be co-sponsoring a Creative Writing Contest in Poetry Classification.

This contest is open to any interested Appomattox Middle School and High School student. General guidelines and information are listed below. Questions should be directed to your English teacher, Lauri Harwood 352-5950, or Nancy Goodman, 352-7628, co-chairman of the Arts Department.

This project is being sponsored to promote interest and involvement in creative writing by providing opportunities on various levels of competition. Entries will be judged by a panel of professional community members not associated with either co-sponsor.

First through third place local winners on Junior High School levels will be awarded a Passbook Savings Account of $35,$25,$15 respectively by Mike Weiss of American Federal Savings and Loan and ribbons presented by the Juniors Woman's Club. Winners will be announced on Nov. 18 during "American Education Week." In addition to these cash prizes, the two first place winning entries will be submitted in a Creative Writing category by the Junior Woman's Club at it's VFWC Alice-Kyle District Arts Festival in the Spring of 1984. Winners on district level may progress to competition on the state level.

Festival success noted

Editor:

The Eleventh Annual Historic Appomattox Railroad Festival is now history. This year's festival probably set new attendance records for the largest crowd in town ever to see our gigantic parade on Saturday.

There were other notables such as the largest parade, the most activities, largest group of exhibitors, and the list goes on and on. Now that the verdict is in this was the greatest festival I've ever attended, and I haven't missed one yet! The amount of energy, long hours, hard work, strained nerves, many meetings, etc. that have made our festivals such a tremendous success are often not visible on the surface, but I can assure you they are seen over and over during each festival, up to and including this one Oct. 8 and 9. The 1983 Festival was a well co-ordinated event enjoyed by all.

On behalf of the Town Council and myself, I want to thank the Festival Board, Festival Chairpersons Nelwyn Morris, Cindy Ranson, Vice-Chair person Dot Davidson, the Norfolk-Southern Corp., Town Manager Bill Britton, Chief Ford and the town police department, Harold Nash and Johnny Harris and their efficient crew, the Appomattox Sheriff's Department, various civic organizations, businesses, and individuals who contributed to the festival. Thanks to everyone for their cooperation and effort.

Sincerely,
Ronald C. Spiggle, Mayor
Town of Appomattox

God's judicial system

Editor

If God's judicial system was conducted in like manner as the courts of our land, we all would be strangers to freedom, shackled to sin, and pinning away in a prison cell of death.

Laws are imposed with the anticipation that not everyone will abide; restrictive by nature, however, everyone is affected. Jesus Christ died on Calvary's cross to pay for our transgression against the law of God. Justified freely by Him, our debt was paid.

Man's judgment in executing justice varies vastly in contrast to the grace of God. Being genuinely remorseful upon breaking a law touches not the heart of law enforcers. To ask forgiveness merely results in one receiving a piece of paper and "I'll see you in court." That's law and justice. Grace, however, came by Jesus Christ because of love; and gives to us who were guilty, mercy.

When we transgress against the law of Christ; our case is brought unto the throne of grace. Here, Jesus Christ, our great high priest, appears in the presence of God to present our case. Interceding on our behalf, Christ enters our plead of guilty and proceeds to plead our cause. After hearing all facts, God hands down by Christ to us the verdict of "I forgive."

At the expense of others we become what we are. It was by one man's disobedience that many were made sinners, and in like fashion, by the obedience of one man, Jesus Christ, many shall be made righteous unto eternal life.

Sincerely,
SUSAN A. GODSEY
